Material Handling & Automation – Canada

Effortless Material Handling.

The pace of change is accelerating – don’t let the high cost of automation prevent you from moving faster. We can assist you with the procurement of capital equipment within the four walls of your distribution center or manufacturing plant.

Our Approach

For over 20 years we have partnered with companies in a wide range of industries including manufacturing, distribution, retail, consumer products and logistics to invest in material handling and automation technology projects. Through every type of economic climate, we’ve leveraged our expertise to deliver the resources companies like yours need to transform their facilities. And we can do the same for you.

Now more than ever, businesses are seeking innovative, financially sound solutions for their short and long-term goals. First Financial Canadian Leasing is here to help.

Our Solutions

Let us help you transform your facilities and your business by investing in material handling and automation technology. Whether you need a single piece of equipment or a complete automation project, we can put our capital to work for you.

Our leasing team has worked in this industry for more than 20 years and possesses extensive knowledge of all equipment types across a variety of industries. Leveraging this vast experience, we will work with you to develop a leasing option that works best for your unique situation, so you can acquire the equipment you need to grow and expand your business.

By choosing to lease instead of making a cash purchase, your company can stabilize its cash flow and avoid using cash or tapping into a business line of credit. Leasing also makes it easier and more cost-effective to replace outdated equipment. You’ll also avoid the expensive inconvenience of managing outdated equipment that not only requires constant maintenance but lowers your production and efficiency rates.

We deliver everything needed for automation of manufacturing, distribution and logistics systems.
